It is an honor to introduce to you a friend and colleague, Jonathan Fox. We both taught at Orcas Christian School. His assignment was in High School while mine was in the Jr. High classes.

Mr. Fox was a great role model. He was pleasant, friendly, and demonstrated a Christ-like character in and out of the classroom. The classroom environment he provided was not only organized and colorful, but creative as well.

Jonathan exhibited a genuine interest in the students and was interested in their personal spiritual, academic, and social growth. He interacted with the students on an individual basis and won their confidence.

Mr. Fox was not intimidated by rowdy behavior and managed his classes without supervisory intervention. He managed by proximity and had a lesson plan that occupied and challenged his students. He has the ability to relate to all age levels of students. On many occasions, the Fox family opened their home for student activities.

There were three areas in which I watched Jonathan shine. First was his dealing with and providing input toward administrative expectations. His influence on the secondary level was significant during those years. Secondly, he mentored students and encouraged each one academically and spiritually. Finally, the extra-curricular assignments took a considerable amount of effort that he took in stride managing his time between school, home, and church.

I would personally seek out Mr. Fox for employment if I were looking for a teacher. In addition, he has the qualifications for any form of administrative assignment. Jonathan's love for his family and their walk with God is commendable.

It was my privilege to work with him. He is a great friend and colleague.
